

LLADRÓ

HANDMADE PORCELAIN
Spain

THE BIGGEST LITTLE ATELIER IN THE WORLD

There is a place in Valencia where time stands still to make way for dreams. The kind of place its founders, Juan, José and Vicente Lladró, dreamed of when they started firing their first porcelains back in 1953.

And Lladró artists still work with this white gold at the same unhurried pace, though with all the technical advances available. With the passion of alchemists of old, they have unlocked the secrets of porcelain and put them to work at the service of creativity, following in the path of age-old trades. The highly complex and completely unique process entails everything from chemistry to modeling and sculpting, relief work, drawing, ornamentation and painting.

Over sixty years later, Lladró still creates all its pieces by hand in Valencia, in its only factory in the world. Dreams made in porcelain that the company exports to over 120 countries on the five continents and yet has never stopped being a crafts workshop: the biggest little atelier in the world.

TRADITION AND MODERNISM

While Lladró undoubtedly conjures up an image of a figurine, it is also a lamp, a mirror, a vase, a tea set, a lithophane or a piece of porcelain jewelry ... After six decades revolutionizing the field of decorative arts with its consummate control of sculpture, Lladró continues opening up new lines.

Its wide-ranging catalogue embraces everything from gloss pastel classic figurines that speak to us of timeless romanticism to more sculptural new classics with a matte finish or in gres, not forgetting the spectacular High Porcelain creations that take to new heights the expressive qualities of this material with which Lladró gives shape to dreams.

In addition, a separate mention is deserved for functional collections conceived for home decor, with a special focus on lighting.

Its product diversity makes the brand totally contemporary, further reinforced by its collaboration with cutting-edge external designers who bring their own personal and creative world with them. A rewarding exchange than can be particularly appreciated in the collections coming from Lladró Atelier, a space providing room for specific projects by the brand's in-house designers and new experiences in porcelain by its collaborators.

GRACE AND ELEGANCE

Lladro celebrates grace, style and elegance through ethereal goddesses of timeless beauty and sculptures with sensuous volumes.
